Description

The Erde 102.2 Classic Trailer is the smallest trailer in the Erde range and is perfect for use as a camping trailer and carrying garden waste etc. It is constructed from galvanised steel for strength and to protect against corrosion, extending the life of the trailer. The Erde 102.2 is capable of carrying a net load weight of 245kg and is fitted with torsion suspension to improve the ride.

The trailer also features a tipping mechanism and a removeable tailgate, making loading and unloading far easier, especially with bulk materials such as earth, sand and gravel. Recessed light clusters, a feature on all Erde trailers allow for a high level of protection against damage and on the smaller models of trailer such as the 102.2 allow the trailer to be stored vertically on its end. This significantly reduces the area required to store the trailer when not in use.
